All V-stigres of the Measurchy to be Demediahod on a Cortain Day.

London, May 3.—A Fair dispatch says the column in the Place Vendome is to be demolshed on the 8th of May, and that all statues and other vestiges of the monarchtal regime are to be destroyed on the same day.

Fall of the Three Forta at Hand.

Naw York, April 3.—A dispatch dated Versailles, Tuesday evening, says: After holsting the white fag in D'lsay, the insurgents hauled I down. They will soon surrender. The same fate will soon befall Montrouge and Vanyre.

Gen. McMahom Has Not Resigned.
London, May 3.—A dispatch from Versaliles says the report that McMahon has resigned is absolutely false.

Versallists Republed at D'Isay.

PARIS, May 3.—There was an infantry engagement before D'Isay this morning. The Versallists were repulsed. The losses were considerable on both sides. Several minor engagements have occurred at Neully, where the forces of the Commune and those of the Assembly still hold their old positions. The Commune is silent as to the recent battle at Clamort.

(The Courter-Journal's Special Report by Tele graph.)
FRANKFORT, May 8.—The Democratic State Convention assembled at Frankfort this morning in the hall of the House of Representatives. In accordance with the programme announced, ex-Gorernor Thomas P. Porter was elected temporary chairman, but, not responding to the call, Colonel Willia R. Machon was then selected.

The heat-

A committee on resolutions, one from each Congressional dis-trict, and two for the State at large, were then inted and retired for consultation. Nom-ons were then in order and balloting was

After the first ballot, no one having received a majority of the votes cast, Mr. A. H. Breed, of Boyle, nominated Hon. J. Proctor Kuott, of Marion. This was wholly unauthorized by Mr. Knott, who was not present, or by any of his friends. Several of these endeavored to have the nomination with drawn, but the mover declined to acquiesce, This premature action undoubtedly defeated all chances for the "Man of Duluth."

In Georgetown Saturday a public meeting was held of those citizens of Scott favorable to the construction of the Frankfort, Paris and Big Sandy Resiroad. In addition to a committee of conference appointed to proceed to Peris the following secondarion was passed: "Resolved, That the people of Georgetown and Scott county have a deep interest in the construction of the proposed Frankfort, Paris and Big Sandy Railroad and we believe that Scott county will contribute liberally in aid of the construction of said road whenever they have any reasonable assurance that the same can be ball."

Speaking of the article in the Observer and Reporter, the substance of which has been published in these columns, in relation to the absence from his seat in Congress at the date of the passage of the force bill of Hon. Wm. B. Reed, successor of Mr. Knott, the Shelby Sentfact says: "Mr. Reed certainly owns it to himself and his constituents to explain this spapered derediction of daty. Centralization. ELINU BURRITT, of Connecticut, known to fame as "the Learned Blacksmith," has collected into a pumphlet, entitled "The Western and Eastern Questions of Eu-rope," a series of letters lately written by him to various newspapers. The views of Mr. BURRITT on any subject that he has attentively examined are worthy of the most respectful consideration. His own uture consequences are beyond computa-ion. Under such circumstances the best that could be expected is that we should read Mr. BURRITT's pamphlet with close ttention. We have done so, and our opinion of it may be briefly stated. These says are less remarkable for freshness, rigor or correctness of thought than for he parental care which they have re-

His jundamental ideas are common able. His fundamental ideas are common to a class, and his pamphlet is, to a degree of which he is no doubt unconscious, a fair exponent of the thought and feeling of a certain segment of the American public. Its spirit, its style and its teachings are alike representative. Even while we wish that its learning were more natural and results in the abuse processors. more of masterly ease; that when we mark an occasional and labored effort at pro-fundity, the image of something unconfined and inartificial in its depth would present itself,—we remember that the very quali-ties for which we sigh might detract more from the performance in one of its relafrom the performance in one of its relations than they would add to: tin another. It would, perhaps, be unjust to say that Mr. Burkerr goes no lower than a post-hole; for he descends at times to a sort hole; for he descends at times to a sort that was mixed with the good? The profound thing in politics now.a-days is to be a consolidationist, and Mr. BURRITT, by virtue of his being a philos-opher, is, avowedly as to foreign affairs, opher, is, avowedly as to foreign affairs, and logically everywhere, a consolidationist. He does not think that the independent existence of Belgium, Portugal, and the other small States of Europe ought to be continued. "It don't pay," he says. Russia he regards as a beneficent and admirable power, a meekly nious missionary in this. power, a meekly pious missionary in thin disguise, and entitled, by dint of her own pure loveliness, to take what she pleases from her neighbors. He is persuaded that pure loyeliness, to the form her neighbors. He is persuaded that England ought to have confidence in Russia, which would make everything as pleasant as a pastoral. Russia, he is sure is not going to hurt anybody; she only wants her neighbors to have confidence in her, and her entire foreign policy, particular, and her entire foreign policy particular, and her entire foreign p wants her neighbors to have connuence in her, and her entire foreign policy, particularly in regard to the Black sea, is merely known to do an honest act, the thing does not be a sample of that body was been and the sample of the body was been and the body was been an a little confidence game. England, he thinks, is still as blooming as England, he things, is still as blooming as a rose, and she and our own beloved land, linked arm in arm, and reciprocally satuting each other with the endearing titles of "Mo" and "Little Ss," are destined to walk the heights of glory indefinitely, and be comfortable. Let them only have and be comfortable. Let them only have confidence, and whenever any little diffi-culty arises and commissioners are appointed to settle it, let them just swap coats and spectacles and look over each other's -little accounts, and the business will be done. Besides having "confidence," there is nothing particular that the nations of the earth, and especially those of the West posed do account preparation. of the West, need do, except, perhaps, to send Mr. Burnitt and a few other choice spirits to hold a grand Peace Congress of Nations somewhere in Europe at an early day. This is the amount of the pamphlet. There is more of it, certainly, but if we have read it right, this is what it comes to Nor is it easy to resist a suspicion that, like a lady's letter, the point is in the. postecript, and that "the use of this ere lies in the application of it." Viewing the matter from this standpoint, all we can say is that, it Mr. Burnitr wishes to lay his views before the august assembly he suggests, he has our vote for delegate and welcome.

son to be drawn from this pamphlet is one that is not in it at all, and which its author would doubtless hasten gling in the grasp of the same tremendous torces, and are threatened by different forms of the same evil. It may not be clear, at first glance, what connection there is or can be between our own "late unpleasantness" and the events of the last autumn and winter in Europe; but, in truth, these are all but parts of the same whole, the full magnitude and proportions of which are as yet but dimly we have no disposition to oppose or ignore the facts and forces of nature as expressed in politics or elsewhere, and par-ticularly that we have not attempted to blind either ourselves or them to the consolidating tendencies of modern times. Resoluting tendencies of modern times. Re-pea edly of late we have spoken of this tendency as the capital point in modern history—as what every statesman sees and what every prefender to statesmanship had better as least pretend to see. But we have also attempted to impress on our ar-ticles the idea, not less important than the fast assuming, the world over, a magnitude and power that render it the most portent ous political phenomenon that human nature and society ever exhibited. It is easy to say, in mock profundity, that the tendency of the age is so and so, and the movement of the race is so and so, and to use a multitude of similar high sounding attentively examined are worthy of the most respective consideration. His own estimate of the value of these letters, as evinced by their reissue in pamphlet torm and their distribution—general, we presume—among the press, is high. The subject treated of embraces, in some one or other of its branches, every quarter of the proposition of the proportion to the consideration of the proportion to the consideration. or other of its branches, every quarter of the globe; so much so, indeed, that we could wish the words "of Europe" had any one of a speculative turn to wager a pint of beer that the learned gentleman has never looked beyond the ology part or aspect of the centralizing tendency, which he champions. We are aware that the Puritan creed in regard to certain events which took place on this side the Atlantic a few years ago is as curt as the cate chism which the Spanish pries's taught th a tew years ago 13 as curt as the cate-chism which the Spanish priests taught the chivalrous youth of Castile in the times of the first Napoleon. They derived the great Corsican-by a short cut from the father of all evil, and then derived Munar from Napoleon, and Godov from Munar. Much the same process has been pursue in accounting for the terrific protest which the Southern people began to make ten years ago by force of arms against the turther centralization of the Government. The trouble about all this is that it explains nothing. We may easily say that the action of a people or of a government has been wicked or unwise; but the question remains, why did they act so? SATAN, we believe, is no longer allowed as an efficient cause in the service, however great his inace may be in pri have never heard, nor do we expect that have never heard, nor do we expect that we ever shall be permitted to hear, from any Northern man, any intelligible explana-tion of the combination of causes which brought on the awful tragedy of '61-5. Let us suppose that the men who come after us will agree, unanimously if you please, that the good which resulted from the rebellion was the destruction of negro slavers; what will they say was the eyil

That it has not yet reached the end we treely admit. It will go much further yet, certainly, in the Old World and, we greatly fear, here also. What is to be the end? We confess that we do not know. What practicable, secure, and not know. What practicable, secure, and immediate remedy can we find? TO THE GULF. lashville Makes no Prop STIDE OF THE DAVIDSON OF rese of your road, as proposed by the Louis-lile and Nashville Railread Company, for pur consideration.

They offer the They offer the following brief comments upon it:

1. Its history and the causes that have brought it about.

It is well known to almost every stockholder that it has always been understood that the prosperity, if not the salvation, of your company depended upon the extension of the road south from Decatur to the Gulf. This was a part of the original programme, and no one ever contemplated for a moment like idea of the road stopping at Decatur, for the simple reason that it was not to be exherent the salvation of the salvation o far worse coedition financially than at the commencement, and, 2 The rapid construction of competing flues has deprived you or a large parties of your business and reduced your earnings to a your to see a sease it very difficult to teep your road in good repair, and pay the interest upon your dock, and it has been difficult to prevent your road, like many others as the State for qual advantages, from passing out of your hands, and, but for the liberal policy adopted by the State of Tensessee oward the road, there is acarcely a road in policy adopted by the State of Tensessee oward the road, there is acarcely a road in the State that could have been sustained. But we shall be policy of the State hour road. But within the level year. The late State Convention passed an ordinance prohibiting the resulting of further and to railroads by the issuance of State boods, and the General Ascembly sloce that time have nanfested a determination by their acts of the slow of the condition of the side of the state or one be sold out, and for the purpose bills have seen flid in the courts by the State commissions, against every defaultier road in the State. The Falls City, Capt. John A. Robinson, will arrive from Green river to-day and leave on her retun trip to-morrow evening from the city wharf. Justice Waish offered the following resolutions:
Resolved, That in the opinion of this court
the Ballroad Commanisoners should attend
the stockholders' meeting of the Nashville
and Decaute Ballroad Company, at Fulaski, on the 5th of May, and give the fullest bonsideration to all propositions that may be effered, and vote for the best proposition to asse the road, it being the option of this court that it is to the interest of the county
list the road be lessed out.

PAIR STATIMINAT OF THE CASE.

Justice Waish said that the court had adjourned over until that day in order to allow the clusters of Nashville to submit a propesition for the lesse of the road. They had failed to do so, and, in the event that other propositions might be submitted at Pulsaki, he believed that the commissioners should be left to their own discretion in judging as to the best proposition made and wharf.

TRADE.—The distinctive feature of the gen-ral market to-day is extreme quiet. Dry goods boids the even tenor of its way, doing a very fair business, when the advanced at get of the season is considered. Greceries move off steadily to country desires at rates previously quoted, and in quantities sattled to their several needs. The trade is not large by any means, but it is safe and healthy. Country merchants are buying no more than extreme Fould report great elificulty in making collections in consequence of the low pice for cotton. Country produces in demand, but only in small lots to supply immediate wants. Grain and flour are firm at quotastens; and cotton is in e-mano, with light stocks, but unchanged in price. Leaf sobsect is showing signs of more improvement than any other department of trace; the sales are increasing and prices are fire, with an advancing lendency. The new crep is coming in more rapidly and generally in condition. Planters report some damage to young tobacco from the bug, but the damage is not believed to be serious.

Wife Shot and Killed in her Bed

C-clock—young Berringer, the nephew of Mrs. Wolte, heard her scream and say that she was a tot. He got up and went down stairs into the room where the lady was, and saw her lying on the floor and Mr. White in the bed. She was growning, and said several times that she was s.o.. Her husband remarked, "I wish you would hush, darm it, one as a lwars making a lins." As the young man saw no signs of bodily harm, he returned to his room and went to sleep. Easily in the morrhing be heard growns again, and west demorrhing be heard growns again, and west down into the lady's room a second time. Mrs. W. was iting in the bed weltering it blood. She saked for water, and, when it was henced to ber, drank it in great quantities. Mr. White was in an adjuining room saleep upon a sofa. THE NEW ALBANY FIRE,

Destruction of $20,000 Worth of Froperty Last Night.

New Albany has hight was vi-tied by a calamitous fire, which destroyed the New Albany carwheel works, and the moiding shops of the American Foundary, both owned by Messrs. D.C. Hill & Co.

The fire was di covered about to o'clock in the evening, the sharm was immediately sounded and the state of the sharm was immediately sounded and the state of the sharm was immediately sounded and their seal, but in vain, to stay the pregress of the firmes. But so inflammable were the buildings, that, with the high wind prevailing, they could only check the spread of the fire without suppressing it. In less that an nour the car-wheel works and molding shops, near the cupola, as is supposed from the circumstances. The lose by it is heavy, and will reach between $15,000 and $20,000, only a portion of which is covered by insurance.

This fire will throw a large number of hands out of employment. The buildings will be rebuilt immediately, and the work will probably be commenced to-day. The car-theet works being in immediate proximity to the New Albanis City Bushness.

In the show-window of Hegan & Brother, Main street, is a sample of a new kind of floor, which is called "venetiam mosale." It is formed of poliabed pieces of stong said to be comented so strongly that the whole is like solid rock. These pieces are of different colors and arranged in regular figures. A card on the sample states that this floor is little dearer than a good carpet. It seems to us that this material would form the floors for the offices, passares and stairways of hooting. 6c. It is at least worthy of examination. The material may be arranged in any flure desired by the purchaser. The proprietor, Dr. Muguet, will give any information dealred.

PENSIONS OF 1819.

THE COMING EXECUTY WASHINGTON, D. C., May S.—It is learned that when the Senate meets one week from WASSINGTON, D. C., May S.—It is learned that when the Senate meets one week from to-day, a proposition will be made to consider the Joint Commission treaty in open session, or, if that is not successful, to make the detailed treaty public. It is not unlikely that the former will be lost and the latter plan prevail. Some Senators who have considered the propriety of making everything public, do not see that the occasion warrants such an innovation on the ancient practice of the Senate. In the last Congress, however, the Senate took quite a step in that direction by agreeing to coxider in open session all treaties made with the Indians. It is very evident that the alleged points of the treaty appearing in some of the New York papers are wild guesswork, for General Sedemet remarked to-day, on reading them, these they are the property of the treaty appearing in some of the New York papers are wild guesswork, for General Sedemet remarked to-day, on reading them, these they are the property and the property intons, with the slightest grains of fact for ba is. THE PRESIDENT TO ISSUE A PROCLAMATION
TO THE SURLUX.
The first requirement of the Executive,
under the Kukiux law, is the issuing of a proclamation giving twenty days' notice to the ac-called Assemptits to return to their homes and behave themselves. It is understood that such a proclamation will be issued next week, to be followed in due time by the

The question has arisen with the Secretary of the Treasury whether he will conditu the decision of the Commissioner of Internal Reveure to the affect that, in assessing tax in 1871 on dividends or carnings during 1870
and 1871, earnings of the last five months of 1870 must not be included in the assessment,
and the whole amount taxed at the rate of

DISTILLERY REPORT.

A circular has been sept cailling upon each Collector to report the amount of assess ments of special taxes due and unpaid, with a view of determining the exact condition of affairs of distilleries. It is expected that a full answer to this from all parts of the country will be received about May 15th. This request is urged annually by distillers who ray up promptly, and the time for pressing it is usually about the last of April. It is said at the Revenue Bureau that if these arrears of taxes are demanded nearly all the distilleries in the United States would be compelled to close their establishments. PERSIONS OF 1819.

The new law giving pensions to certain soldiers and sallors of the war of 1812 is now in full force, and applications under it are daily arriving in large numbers at the Pension office. Many of these will be thrown out because they are not covered by the law, while others are deficient in proof. The law provides pensions for all the out because they are not covered by the liw, while others are dedictent in proof. The law provides pensions for all the surviving officers, and enlisted and drafted men, including militia and volunteers of the military and naval service who served airty days in the war of 1812, and were honorably discharged, and to such other officers and soldiers as may have been personally named in any resolution of Congress for any specific service in that war, and who at no time gave aid and comfort to the late rebellion, and the surviving widows of such officers and collisted and drafted men; provided that such widows shall have been married prior to the treaty of pence which terminated the war, and shall not have remarried. The law does not apply to any person who is receiving a pension at the rate of more or less than eight dollars. except for the difference between the pension to be received and the eight dollars now received per month. The rate under this law is eight dollars per month for life. The loss of a certificate of discharge will not deprive an appliest of the benefit of this law, for other proof of service may be taken.

tered, and as they appeared their faces fold plandly with the prisoner, she again bowed her head and closed her even, nor did she again chapte this position until the jury were duscharged. As each of her judges passed her, the little daughter looked cagerly into their faces, and with intuition surprising in one of her age, read her mother's doom, and gave vent to one long walt of heart-broken and again all was still, but the scene was not the same, for the women wept, and tears crept down the checks of the attemns exc.

The court directed the officers to preserve order, and should any persons appliand when the verdict was rendered, to arrest and innediately bring them before the cour.

The Clerk—Gentlemen of the jury, have you

The Clork—What say you, gentlemen of the property of the presence at the bar strong of the presence at the bar strong of the presence at the bar strong of the presence at the bar schaped in the indictionant.

At this announcement, quile a sensation prevailed in the court, and those near her present forward to exten a view of the face of the convected murderess, but she moved not. Her daughter again began crying, and her grief touched the bearts of all present. A number of the jurors were moved to tears, and for a few minutes no sound broke the electic except the sobs of the heart-broken child. Now the stern voice of the law proke in upon the secene.

The Clerk was ordered by the Court not to record the vertical as yet, Judge Dwinelle then said:

record the verdict as yet, Judge Dwinelle then said:

"Mr. Cook, as I cannot address the jury verbaily I thail state what I wish in writing."
Judge Dwinelle, wrote for a few moments, sud then read as follows:
"Gentlemen of the Jury, you were instructed to state by your verdict, if you convicted the presoner, whether she was guilty of marder in the second degree, or guilty of manishaptter."

Dr. Winitersmith:

Dran 8-1 and been suffering for several mentas with chills and fever, and had taken ever yerperation I am a dvertised or has was recommended to me as a cure. None of them did me any accol. Last hall I fortunately met Copy.

Jack Horn, the represensative of the drag house of Peter, Powers & Cooper, of your city, who kindly presented me with a bottle of your valuable Chill Toute. I commenced taking it according to directions, and after the second or third dose I fell much better, and before I had taken half the tottle the chills were broken effectually, and have had no symptoms whatever of a return since. I take more than ordinary pleasure in recommending your Tonic Sirup as a certain cure for chills and fover. I am, vory respectfully, Steward Steamer Celeste.

LOUISTLE HOTS, OC., 1570.

I. C. H. WINTERMITH—Dear Sir; I arrived here on the Sub September, from Baldwin, Miss., quite teeble, having had contioued chills for five con-ecutive months. During that period I made use of several remedies, but with only temporary effect. The use of only one bottle of your value had continued the series of several remedies, but with only temporary effect. The use of only one bottle of your value had commending your value to trone to the afficted.

Truly your friend.
